ROMA GOSPEL FESTIVAL

MUSIC FESTIVAL

21 December – 1 January

Auditorium Parco della Musica,
Via Pietro de Coubertin, 30 auditorium.com

The Roma Gospel Festival is held annually at the Auditorium Parco della Musica, from December 21 to January 1. The festival features the best American choirs and gospel groups and is the largest of its kind in Europe. With such a venue, the goal to involve all listeners and have them participate in the shows is easily achievable. So don't hesitate to wave, sing along, or simply clap with everyone else for a unique and encompassing experience.

The event kicks off on December 21 and 22 with Vincent Bohanan & Sound of Victory followed by the Florida Inspirational Singers on December 23, known for a repertoire that bridges the soulful sounds of the southern US tradition with more contemporary elements of this genre. On Christmas Day, there are two performances by the Harlem Gospel Choir, the most famous and long-standing American gospel choir, which has been performing since 1986 to raise funds for charitable causes.

From December 26 to 27, the stage will feature Meachum Clarke & True Purpose, a leading artist in contemporary gospel with more than thirty years of experience. On December 28, Gospel Voices Family will take the stage, and on December 29, Marquis Dolford & The Capital Gospel Group.

The festival will also feature Kaylah Harvey and The Bronx Gospel Choir (December 30-31), a highly acclaimed group recognized as one of the best new Gospel ensembles in the United States. The grand finale of the 2024 edition, however, will take place on January 1st, with a performance by the extraordinary New York Voices. This Grammy-winning vocal group is renowned for their unique blend of jazz, pop, and swing, promising a memorable conclusion to this year's festival.

100presepi.va

Depictions of the birth of Jesus Christ can be found all over the world during Christmastime, but Italians have a special pride in their nativity scenes, known as presepi. This pride is beautifully showcased in an exhibit at the Colonnade of Piazza San Pietro in the holy city of the Vatican. From over 300 submissions from different countries, only 100 of the most stunning presepi are selected for display. Whether you're a craftsman or simply an admirer of artistry, you're invited to come and see these masterpieces for yourself.

GUERCINO. THE LUDOVISI ERA IN ROME AT SCUDERIE DEL QUIRINALE

From October 31 to January 26, the Scuderie del Quirinale will celebrate the Jubilee Year in Rome with a remarkable exhibition honoring Guercino's art and the historical legacy of the papal Ludovisi family.

Showcasing 121 works coming from sixty-eight different institutions, the exhibit highlights the artistic production of 1616 to 1625, with a particular focus on the biennial (1621 to 1623) brief pontificate of Alessandro Ludovisi, also known as Pope Gregory XV. Giovanni Francesco Barbieri, known as Guercino, was born in Cento, Emilia Romagna, in 1591. A self-taught painter, he connected with the Ludovisi family through Father Mirandola in Bologna. His nickname, "Guercino," meaning "the little squinter," refers to a slight squint caused by a childhood fright, which, despite its origin, did not affect his extraordinary ability to perceive color and create dramatic scenes on canvas.

The exhibition, therefore, has at its center Guercino, Pope Gregory XV's favorite artist, and develops all its themes through dialogues between masterpieces and artists, evoking episodes of rivalry, exchange, and mutual influence.

In the rooms, besides Guercino, visitors will find, among others, Guido Reni, Domenichino, Lanfranco, Annibale and Ludovico Carracci, Pietro da Cortona, Padovanino, Van Dyck, Poussin, and Bernini. From the comparisons in the exhibition it will become clear how Guercino's artistic vision, ignited by the refined pursuit of color, became the perfect balancing point for the rise of the Ludovisi family and the assertion of their political and cultural power. On the occasion of the exhibition, the Casino di Villa Ludovisi, the dynasty landmark villa, which normally is not accessible to the public, will be open to visitors with a guide from the Scuderie del Quirinale. The tours, each led by an art historian, will last approximately 30 minutes and are scheduled to run every half hour on weekends and holidays starting 9 November (excluding 25 December and 1 January) from 10 am to 1 pm and from 2 pm to 4 pm.
